

Mini Consultations: Quick, Personalized Support for Your Immediate Questions

Our Mini Consultations offer an accessible way for existing patients to quickly address straightforward questions related to their ongoing fertility treatment. These five-minute consultations are designed to provide fast, focused answers to simple queries without the need for a full appointment.

What Are Mini Consultations?

Mini Consultations are brief, chargeable sessions that can be booked directly through our website. They're intended for patients already engaged in treatment with us who may have quick questions that don't require an in-depth consultation.

Who Is It For?

This service is ideal for patients currently undergoing investigations or treatments who have small, time-sensitive questions. Examples of suitable topics include:

- "Is it normal to have a slight bruise on my skin after my injection?"
- "Is it safe to schedule a dental procedure during my fertility treatment?"

These sessions are not meant to replace full consultations for new patients, first consultations, or follow-up appointments. Instead, they're a convenient option for quick, manageable queries that can be addressed in five minutes or less.

Important Details:

- Mini Consultations carry a small fee and are limited to five minutes only. If the discussion requires more time or deeper review, we encourage booking a full consultation.
- This service is for answering quick, general questions. For detailed discussions of test results, treatment plans, or any in-depth matters, please book a proper follow-up consultation.
- We do not provide consultation on results, investigations, or management via email, phone messages, or through our office staff. Our Mini Consultations and follow-up appointments ensure that all patients receive clear, complete guidance in a supportive environment.

Booking:

Ready to book? Simply go to our Mini Consultations page, where you can schedule your five-minute session at a time that works for you.